Counsel:

Thank you for sending the April 9 draft that we had preliminary discussions about on April 10. Larry and I are now ready to discuss most of the provisions.
I am also attaching some language that we propose for specific paragraphs.
We will talk to you on Wednesday, May 2.

Amy and Larry,

For our discussion tomorrow, attached please find a clean (with comments) version of the Sacramento costs CD and a redline against the last full draft that we received from the government in January.

Regards,

Wendy

Amy,

Thank you very much for sending this.

Would it be possible to reschedule tomorrow's call to early next week or later this week? We have prepared a revised draft CD that takes your proposed edits into consideration, but would like to give Aerojet Rocketdyne a little more time to review before we send it to you. You would also probably like time to review it before we discuss.

We're available

Monday, April 9 - from 11:30 am ET/8:30 am PT to 2 pm ET/11 am PT and again from 3 pm ET/12 pm PT to 6 pm ET/3 pm PT

Tuesday, April 10, and Thursday, April 5 - any time after 11:30 am ET/8:30 am PT

Regards,

Wendy

Counsel:

As we discussed, I am attaching some proposed edits to the consent decree to address some of the concerns Aerojet raised on our February 28, 2018 conference call.
We look forward to talking with you about these proposed changes and any other questions you may have on Tuesday, April 3.
